

SUCCESSIONHR ADP CONNECTOR ADDENDUM

This ADP Connector Addendum ("Addendum") supplements the existing SuccessionHR Software-as-a-Service Agreement ("SaaS Agreement") between Customer and SuccessionHR Inc. ("SuccessionHR").

This Addendum governs Customer's purchase and use of the ADP Connector through the ADP Marketplace. Except as expressly modified herein, the SaaS Agreement remains in full force and effect.

1. ADP Connector

"ADP Connector" means the functionality provided by SuccessionHR that enables data exchange, authentication, single sign-on (SSO), APIs, and related integration services between the SuccessionHR Platform and Customer's ADP environment.

2. Eligibility

The ADP Connector is available only to customers with an active SuccessionHR subscription. If Customer's underlying SuccessionHR subscription terminates or expires, access to the ADP Connector may also be suspended or terminated.

3. Customer Responsibilities

Customer is responsible for maintaining the necessary ADP permissions, authorizations, and subscriptions required for the ADP Connector to function and for ensuring the accuracy of data transmitted between ADP and SuccessionHR.

4. Third-Party Services

The ADP Connector relies upon ADP systems, APIs, authentication services, and other third-party services. SuccessionHR is not responsible for interruptions, delays, or changes caused by such third-party services.

5. General

All confidentiality, intellectual property, privacy, security, warranty, disclaimer, indemnity, limitation of liability, and other provisions of the SaaS Agreement apply to the ADP Connector and are incorporated herein by reference.

Except as expressly modified by this Addendum, the SaaS Agreement remains unchanged and in full force and effect.
